

OAKLAND VOTES ON COMMISSION ISSUE TOMORROW

Contest Between Two Rival
Tickets Overshadows
Other Features.

With two contests for commissionership overshadowing in importance the three that are to be voted for positions on the board of education, Oakland will have tomorrow what promises to be one of its most exciting municipal elections.

In the field for commissionership number one are Frank Colbourn and Herbert T. Hempstead. For commissioner number two, A. P. Anderson and Albert E. Carter are running.

Since the primary election the battle has been one of two camps—Anderson and Hempstead have established headquarters together and are campaigning on a single ticket while Carter and Colbourn are doing the same. Just how far the contest will go is not known, as each ticket or the other is a matter of political speculation and is not an organization's backing.

Anderson and Colbourn are sponsored by Mayor Davis and the Good Government League, while Hempstead and Carter are backed by the support of the Alameda county political organization. Commissioner E. F. Morse and F. Soderberg have come out for the last two and Commissioner W. J. Baucus is with Colbourn and Carter.

The polls will open at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and will close at 7. Owing to the fact that there has been a united effort to secure a heavy vote and as near a full expression of the public will as possible, there are many who look to a total of close to 40,000 ballots.

TREMBLING REPORT
MIDNIGHT POSSIBLE.

There are only ten names on the ballot and but five contests, so it is expected that the count will be completed early in the evening and that the results will be known before midnight.

The six contestants for places on the board of education, as they appear on the ballot, are as follows:
For School Director No. 1—Harry L. Boyle, L. A. Young.
For School Director No. 2—Dr. J. Emanuel Clark, George W. Hatch.
For School Director No. 3—Mrs. Georgia C. Ormsby, Dr. R. F. Tisdale.
The four candidates for the commissionership in Oakland today outlined the policies they will pursue if elected at tomorrow's election.

CANDIDATES FOR COMMISSIONERSHIP GIVE STATEMENTS ON THEIR PLATFORMS

By Frank Colbourn

"I believe in a clean, constructive business-like administration of the affairs of the city of Oakland. I stand for the encouragement of new industries, because new industries mean more payrolls for the working men more prosperity for the business men, and more property improvements, which through higher assessment valuations, means lower taxes."

I stand for the voters of Oakland as stockholders in a big business corporation and I believe that it is up to the city commissioners to produce dividends not only in the shape of lower taxes, but better housing conditions, efficient police and fire protection and the general welfare and prosperity of the city.

With reference to the service men I prepared a resolution and worked for its adoption while secretary of the Civil Service Board providing that minor physical defects should not disqualify ex-service men in examinations.

I stand for a memorial building in this city and I will stand for any reasonable and legitimate legislation that will benefit ex-service men.

By H. T. Hempstead

I pledge myself to promote harmony in municipal business and to vote solely on the merits of each matter before the council.

I will give unwavering support to the principles of civil service and will work for the lowest possible tax rate consistent with good service and intelligent progress.

I believe in giving adequate yet economical support to the public schools, in the full recognition of the rights of ex-service men, and the use of all legitimate means to encourage new investments and the locating here of industrial plants.

I will support all well-considered amendments to the city's general laws that may reduce the cost of local government and will do all in my power to maintain the morality, health and general well-being of Oakland.

It is my desire to work in harmony with the public thought and necessity for the acquisition of such public utilities as may seem desirable and profitable, and to be the independent representative and servant of all of the people of Oakland.

By A. P. Anderson

I stand committed to a constructive and business-like administration of municipal affairs, to economy, efficiency and lower tax rates.

I believe in the strict adherence to the principles of civil service with modification giving the preference to former service men. I am convinced of the need for the standardization of departmental affairs for cooperation and will work with and support the mayor and the other commissioners in all matters I believe to be right and for the best interests of the city of Oakland.

I am for Oakland, for its industrial and harbor development, and I will labor unceasingly for those things which shall make the city larger and more prosperous and which shall attract to Oakland an even larger share of national attention.

I believe that the city's business should be transacted with the same dignity and in the same spirit as a board of directors would transact that of a private industry. I stand for the consideration of each question on its merits and for the welfare of Oakland.

By Albert Carter

I believe that there should be more industrial machinery in the city of Oakland and less political machinery to the end that the industrial and commercial development should measure up with our natural resources. We have natural advantages and resources superior to any city on the Pacific Coast, which we must capitalize in terms of new industries.

Our waterfront offers unparalleled opportunities for industrial development. Oakland should be made a "port of call" for every vessel that docks in San Francisco. I shall work to bring this about.

I stand for a tax rate as low as compatible with the proper development of our resources. I stand for economy in expenditures and for 100 cents for every dollar expended.

All things being equal I believe in giving preference to ex-service men in any appointment that I may be called upon to make; I favor allowing an organization of ex-service men to use the auditorium without charge and I believe it is fitting and proper that a suitable memorial building be erected in this city.

Anti-Semitism Is Deplored by Leader of B. B.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 9.—Defense of American Jews against anti-Semitic attacks was made by Samuel Dorf, grand master of the United States grand lodge, Order B'nai B'rith, in a message delivered to members of the order at their convention yesterday.

"The Jewish people," the message said, "have contributed their full share to the progress, the welfare, the prosperity and the happiness of the land. The Jewish people have proven themselves intensely patriotic. We, therefore, denounce the bigoted and defamers of the Jew who would sow the seeds of discord among their fellowmen and seek to create race antagonism."

The message declared it was "amazing that in this country, where our national boast is civil and religious liberty there should be persons spreading the poison of anti-Semitism."

Girl, Jilted, Drops to Death in N. Y.

NEW YORK, May 9.—(By Universal Service.)—Miss Helen Fielder, 23, clad only in her nightgown and bathrobe, dropped from the fifth story window of a house in the Bronx and died in the arms of a passerby.

For several minutes the throng of observers who watched Miss Fielder hanging to the window, shouted then her strength gave out and she dropped. She landed on her head and died of a fractured skull. According to Mrs. Thomas de Giacomo, with whom she stopped during the night, Miss Fielder had been jilted and was despondent.

Coolies Buy Narcotic As Anti-Opium Pill

SHANGHAI, April 24.—(Delivered.)—In connection with a campaign opened in March by the executive body of the anti-opium association to check the sale and use of opium and narcotic drugs in Shanghai, a particular effort is to be directed against traffic in what has come to be known as anti-opium pills. These have been sold commonly in Chinese shops and upon analysis have been found to contain powdered herbs and morphine. They have been sold chiefly to coolies and the poorer classes.

authorization for the use of the names of Governor Stephens or Congressman Elston in circulars issued for Hempstead and Anderson.

POLITICAL INTEREST.

GOVERNOR CHARGES.

The Goodrich statement follows:

"Immediately upon publication of the Hempstead-Anderson circular Saturday the Good Government League wired Congressman Elston in Washington. Yesterday I went personally to Sacramento to see Governor Stephens. Their statements published today are an emphatic repudiation of a mendacious piece of political trickery. Knowing that they cannot win the election on their own merits Hempstead and Anderson have the effrontery to issue a false letter of endorsement and to endeavor to steal for themselves the political strength of the governor and the congressman."

"A man who will falsely sign another's name to a letter which he has never seen, obviously cannot be trusted in public office in control of public funds."

"I go without saying that, in the circumstances, no citizen interested in good government can cast his ballot in this election for either Hempstead or Anderson."

"We ask the people of Oakland to send into office Mr. Colbourn and Mr. Carter by an overwhelming vote."

Goodrich has backed his declarations with the following statements from the Governor and Elston.

"Sacramento, May 7.—I have just been shown for the first time a circular said to be circulated in Oakland at this time. On the second page of said circular there is a letter addressed 'To all voters of Oakland' which has my name as the first signature thereof. The placing of my name in a letter which is wholly without authority from me I have not endorsed anyone's candidacy in Oakland and I have given permission to no one at any time to use my name either for or against anyone now a candidate. In January last I wrote to Senator A. P. Anderson of Oakland commending him for his general attitude in the State Senate toward all good legislation. I have written no other letter to anyone now a candidate in Tuesday's election. I have never had a Governor taken any part in a local election."

"W. D. STEPHENS."

"Washington, D. C., May 7.—J. Cal Ewing, Oakland, has not authorized A. P. Anderson to use my name nor endorsed his candidacy against Carter."

"J. A. ELSTON."

LETTER TO ANDERSON.

"The election eve flood of letters and statements does not end with these, for there still remains the letter sent to Anderson by Governor Stephens, and which is presented by him as an endorsement of record, and the letter written to Hempstead by Congressman Elston. Governor Stephens has admitted endorsing the Anderson record in the state senate and Elston's position is that he has written an endorsement of Hempstead."

had but has not taken a position for Anderson against Carter.

The letter written by Governor Stephens to Anderson read:

"My Dear Senator:

"I wish that I had the opportunity of expressing to you personally my appreciation I feel and the people of your county and the state must feel, for the stand which you have taken for good government, for clean, economical government, and for government for and in behalf of the people themselves."

"You have shown that you stand strongly for the good of all California citizenship. Therefore, permit me to thank you and to express a widespread appreciation."

"Yours very truly,

"W. D. STEPHENS."

HEMPSTEAD PRAISED.

That of Congressman Elston to Hempstead follows:

"My Dear Mr. Hempstead:

"Allow me to congratulate you on your success at the primaries, which I assume means your election, for I am sure your administration will be both honest and efficient."

"I have known you long enough, personally and officially, to know that you will justly administer any trust the people may repose in you."

"Sincerely yours,

"J. ARTHUR ELSTON."

WOMAN ESCAPES FROM THUG WHO INVADES HOME

Intruder Smashes Window in Attempt to Get At Matron,
Who Runs From House.

Followed from a street car to her home by a short, heavy man who wore an army overcoat to have the intruder peer through windows at her after she had locked all the doors and windows, Mrs. W. W. Peterson, 26 years old, 327 Athens avenue, saved herself from probable assault last night when she fled from her home after the man had broken his way into the house by crashing through both the screen window sill and kitchen floor into and window pane in a kitchen window. As Mrs. Peterson fled down the street the man appeared at the front door, but turned back when he saw his intended victim running for assistance.

She left the car at Athens avenue and San Pablo, Mrs. Peterson told Inspectors William Emigh and Harry Orbell, and shortly after noticed a man following her. She increased her pace and finally reached her home, after she had locked all the doors and windows, Mrs. W. W. Peterson, 26 years old, 327 Athens avenue, saved herself from probable assault last night when she fled from her home after the man had broken his way into the house by crashing through both the screen window sill and kitchen floor into

While she sat in the kitchen, recovering from her fright, Mrs. Peterson told the police, she saw the man's face peering at her through the kitchen window. She ran into a bedroom and tried to lock the door while the intruder crashed the window with his hands. Terrified, Mrs. Peterson fled from her home, as she heard the man step onto the kitchen floor, toward Athens and San Pablo avenue, where her husband conducts an oil station.

Peterson notified the police and immediately returned to his home, but could find no trace of the man. He found footprints around the house and marks of a man's shoe on the side of the house climbing into the kitchen. Drops of blood on the window sill and kitchen floor indicated the man used his hands in breaking the glass.

The man was described by Mrs. Peterson as being about 5 feet, 6 inches tall, smooth shaven and about 150 pounds in weight.

Who Owns the Gas and Electric Companies?

THE ACTUAL OWNERSHIP of public service companies is, to a very large extent, by the people themselves. There is absolutely no concentration of ownership in a few hands. Approximately forty-one thousand individuals own the stocks, bonds and other securities of the PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY.

In addition to these, there are the thousands of depositors in banks and trust companies and policyholders in insurance companies whose entrusted funds are re-invested in considerable amount in the stable securities of public service companies. So that nearly every man, woman or child you meet on the streets is in one way or another directly concerned, whether they know it or not, in the solvency and continued operation of these companies.

These are the real owners of the public service companies. The security of their accumulated savings and the welfare of their families are closely linked with the success of the companies in which their savings are invested. Influences that tend to injure the public service companies and prevent their proper functioning are harmful alike to the industries dependent upon their service and to the great mass of people who try, by the practice of thrift and the exercise of their best judgment in investment, to lay by something for the future.

In providing funds for building the generating and distributing facilities by which the people and the industries are supplied with gas and electricity, investors render a substantial public service. As owners, they enjoy no special privilege or preferential rate. An invariable rule against discrimination places the owners, the holders of securities, upon the same footing as all other consumers. Their only recompense for the use of their money in the public service is a fair rate of income to which they are rightfully entitled.

PINNED UNDER WHEEL.
The crash in which Thomas Glover, Alameda mail clerk, was killed, occurred at Yuba City. He was pinned under an overturned machine and drowned in a ditch. He and his wife and daughter went from Alameda to Yuba City to attend a wedding, and afterward the wedding party went on the car through Sutter county. C. B. Williams of Yuba City was driving the car. The steering wheel caught as he attempted to make a turn and the car turned over into the ditch, in which were several inches of water.

Leslie F. Coch, aged 20 months, was killed by an auto truck which was being driven out of the garage by his father, Fred G. Coch, 905 Aileen street, Oakland. The child was amusing himself by hiding from his parents who thought he was in the house.

Arthur Emms, war veteran, who served in both the American and British navies, was killed when the machine in which he and his wife were driving on the highway south of Tulare, skidded and turned turtle. Emms' neck was broken. Mrs. Emms was only slightly injured.

Mrs. Nellie Boyce, 48 years old, a cook for Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Crellin in their country home two miles north of Napa, was instantly killed last night when the machine in which she was riding skidded from the roadway and turned on its side. Mrs. Boyce was thrown from the car and her skull fractured.

SKIDDED AT CURVE.
The car which was driven by Crellin, was going at a high rate of speed, it is alleged, when, at a curve on the highway near the Goshing ranch, it left the roadway and skidded several hundred feet before turning over. Crellin was badly cut about the head and face, but Mrs. Crellin escaped with a bad shaking up.

It is believed Mrs. Boyce had relatives in Vallejo.
In the busy district, there were seven persons injured in various automobile accidents yesterday. Walter Keyes, son of Hollister Chase Keyes of Alameda, was pinned under a car which turned over at Broadway and Tenth streets. Fred Apt, driver of the car, and Edward Kennedy were also pinned under the car.

RUN DOWN BY TRUCK.
The accident in which Captain Carl Anderson was injured occurred while he was crossing Broadway at First street in Oakland. He was run down by a truck which was being driven by "C. O. Lanchini, 405 Stockton street, San Francisco.

The crash in which Lacy and Frank Cravalo were injured occurred when the wagon in which the children were riding was struck by a car driven by Gordon McLaughlin, 4615 Park boulevard.

J. A. Holmgren, Crellin hotel, Oakland, and Miss H. Cherdes, 891 Post street, San Francisco, were being treated at the Central Intelligencer hospital for injuries received when Holmgren lost control of his automobile in front of 777 East Seventeenth street, the machine colliding with a tree.

Walter Bishop and his wife and 17-year-old daughter were slightly injured when the car in which they were riding was struck by a car driven by a northbound Southern Pacific train.

The crash resulting in the injury of Edward Kraft of Mill Valley and John Witsch, occurred at San Rafael. The bakery wagon, driven by Kraft, and the auto, driven by Witsch, collided with each other.

DRIVEN INTO DITCH.
Joseph Collins, Sacramento business man, and William Thatcher were arrested in San Francisco, charged with reckless driving, following collision between the automobiles they were driving, which resulted in injuries to Anthony Alvis, a salesman, living at the Fairmont hotel. Alvis was riding with Collins.

The collision was at Kearny and Jackson streets.

William Schnoor and Mike Kenner were injured in North Sacramento, when their automobile turned over. The accident in which Miss Bessie Parker was hurt occurred a short distance outside the city. The crash resulted in severe injuries to Mrs. Paul Couch and Mrs. Anthony Coulton occurred when another machine hit their automobile.

Albert Wickham of the Sacramento Y. M. C. A. was badly injured when he was struck by an automobile while crossing the highway in North Sacramento.

Frank Daniels, 78 Twelfth street, was slightly bruised early this morning when the machine he was riding in collided with another machine which was parked at the corner of Twenty-third and Grove streets. He was thrown from the machine.

Daniels was arrested and charged with being drunk. Eugene Basteda, 225 Tenth street, who was driving the machine, is also being held for investigation.

Sent on an errand by his mother, Leslie Marchbanks, 5 years old, of 2758 Franklin street, San Francisco, was run down by an automobile in front of his home today, when he became confused by the approach of a machine driven by Arthur M. Angell, 2961 Webster street. His mother was watching him from a window. He was taken to Adler's sanatorium and later removed to St. Mary's hospital.

JAPAN'S PRINCE IS HONORED BY GREAT BRITAIN

Nipponese Heir Apparent Is Welcomed to London by King George.

LONDON, May 8.—The capital of the British empire today accorded Prince Hirohito, heir to the Japanese throne, a tumultuous welcome upon his arrival here for a three weeks' visit to England. Full honors of state were extended him, being the first such honors paid a visiting foreign dignitary since 1914.

The Japanese prince, accompanied by the Prince of Wales, arrived at Victoria station where he was greeted with cordial handshakes by King George, the Duke of Connaught and the Duke of York. The brilliant suite of British officialdom in attendance, stood at attention while the bands played the Japanese anthem.

After the crown prince and his hosts had inspected the guard of honor, made up of a battalion of the Scots Guards, the royal guest was conducted to the state carriage, in which also the king, the prince of Wales and Viscountess Chinda were seated and the procession moved off.

News of the Churches

Wearing the red carnation in honor of a mother living or the white in remembrance of a mother dead, large congregations attended all churches yesterday morning and evening to have impressed upon their minds glowing tributes to mother, "the best friend we ever had."

Pastor Lauds Mother

"My mother and I" was the subject of a sermon delivered by Rev. John Shupe, pastor of the First Baptist church last night. He said: "Today is Mother's Day. The observance of it was suggested by a woman, Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia. The object of it is to honor your mother or your mother's memory in some fitting way. The details of the world have done more for mankind than all other agencies combined; yet while we spend millions annually to prepare our girls for commercial and other secular duties, we spend but little to prepare them for the discharge of the duties of motherhood."

Tribute Paid to Mothers

"Good Mothers" was the subject chosen by Rev. Harold Govette, pastor of Olivet Congregational church, yesterday, for his tribute to mothers, living and dead.

Non-Voters Scored

"According to Abraham Lincoln, our government is one of the people, for the people, and by the people," but because of the non-voting citizen it has become a government of one-fourth of the people, for one-fourth of the people, and by one-fourth of the people," said Rev. H. A. Van Winkle, pastor of the First Christian church, in his sermon last night on "Why Non-Voting Citizens Are Un-American and Un-Christian."

Women to Build Home At Capital

NEW YORK, May 9.—The women's national civic foundation project to provide in Washington joint headquarters for all national women's organizations was the subject of discussions at a meeting of the foundation today. Miss Alice Carpenter, the foundation's secretary, said a ten-acre estate at the head of Connecticut avenue in Washington has been acquired, where it is proposed to construct a group of artistic buildings and clubhouses, one residence for each organization. The groups are to be beautified and among other features a large theater is to be erected.

Soviet Recognized by British, Says Report

COPENHAGEN, May 9.—(By the Associated Press).—The British government, it is asserted in information obtained here from a Russian source, has given de facto recognition to the Russian Soviet government.

Mission Aid Urged

A call to the churches of the "homeland" to take heed of their opportunities to Christians in India and other Oriental lands, was sounded yesterday morning by Rev. H. S. Nesbitt of Punjab, India, who spoke from the pulpit of the First United Presbyterian church.

Boy 9 Years Old, Russian Refugee, Takes Own Life

OMAHA, Neb., May 9.—Sammy Getnick, aged 9, escaped the ravages of war and revolution in Russia, but hanged himself in his bedroom here last night. His parents, being without a cent to pay for a doctor, believe he was accidentally strangled when his head slipped through a noose in a heavy cord with which they think he was making a swing in the doorway. The police say he made a regular hangman's noose, knotted the cord many times to make it short enough, kicked a table from under his feet and then drew up his legs to make death certain.

REBEL MASSACRE BY BOLSHEVIKI IS DENIED BY AGENT

STOCKHOLM, May 9.—Reports of wholesale executions by the Bolsheviks of participants in the recent Kronstadt uprising are contained in a private message from Helsingfors to the Tidningen today. These met with immediate denial, however, from the Bolshevik agency here. The message asserted that several thousands of the Kronstadt rebels, among them hundreds of women and children, had been executed, but the Soviet agency says that only thirteen persons, leaders of the revolt, were shot.

FRENCH CITIES FIGHT

PARIS, May 9 (By the Associated Press).—Fourteen policemen and twenty-three Communists were wounded here in a disturbance during the celebration of the anniversary of the lifting of the siege of Orleans by Jean d'Arc in 1429.

ROME, May 9.—Battles between the Fascists, or extreme Nationalists, and the Communists are becoming more bitter.

On Friday, reports of violence showed six dead and forty wounded. The conflicts included one at Citta della, in which the Fascists, in avenging a Communist assault, attempted to destroy the labor headquarters. All the attackers, however, were arrested. When this news reached Fascist headquarters in Padua, several hundred members went to Citta della, forced one of the prisons and overcame the guards. They then rushed to the other prisons but failed in their attacks, which resulted in three of their number being killed and ten wounded.

A Clothes-washing Method That Took 5,000 Years to Perfect

The housewives of ancient Egypt washed clothes by spreading them along the bank of the Nile, and stamping upon them with their feet. Greeks of Homer's time did their laundering by beating their clothing with sticks and stones.

Then slabs of rock came to be used—and finally roughened boards. It was from these last that the old-time washboard grew.

Our laundering methods, developed by men who have made a lifelong and scientific study of textiles and of soaps, are the final result of thousands of years of laundry progress.

It is the soft water method—the process that enables us to give your family washing thorough cleansing and complete sterilizing. It is a method that saves clothes and protects health.

When the trials of washday become burdensome, send us your family bundle and let us wash for you in the modern way. Telephone or mail us a card and our route representative will call.

Mothers' Day Honored

"Mothers' Day" yesterday claimed the homage of all the peoples of the Bay Cities. Churches in special services dedicated to the honor of the mother, the mothers of America. Homes and individuals offered their special tribute. Florist shops were called for their choicest blossoms to be sent to mothers with garlands of congratulatory messages from the hands of sons and daughters. The white carnation was sometimes substituted with the favorite of the mother, living or dead.

"Modern" Home Scored

That the institutions of the modern home are too often consecrated to worldly things without a single thought as to their spiritual significance, was the thought expressed by Rev. Frank M. Sibley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, last night in a sermon on the subject "What is in Thy House?"

He said: "Are the things in the modern homes consecrated to holy uses? Too often we gather about the dinner table after the manner of pagans without invoking divine grace and blessing. The pianos and graphophones too often are given to rag-time ideals of melody rather than hymns and classic music."

"Think of the moral tone of fathers today. Men are successful and admirable along many lines but frequently fail as fathers. It would be better for some fathers to be with the children at Bible schools on Sunday rather than out on the golf links or the pleasure resorts."

"Modern mothers with all their manifold virtues need a revival in family life and the importance of careful moral and religious instruction for their children."

"Mothers' Day" inaugurated a new custom. The appeal to girls and women to attend the church of their choice at least once yesterday met with a wide response. In co-operation, and in honor of the national ceremonial authorized by Congressional Act, corps of young women greeted the worshippers as they entered the churches, bestowing upon them the white flowers of remembrance.

FRED HAS COME INTO MY LIFE, DECLARES LETTER

Mrs. Stillman's Alleged Missive of Confession Bared in Part

NEW YORK, May 9.—"Fred has come into my life," wrote Mrs. "Frit" Foster Stillman to her husband in the famous alleged hysteria letter, part of which was made public today. It is the document which James A. Stillman, her multimillionaire husband, has been battling vainly through his attorneys, to introduce as "crushing" evidence in his suit for divorce. It is what his counsel characterizes as "the letter of confession."

The brief line quoted above is the only reference to Fred K. Beauvais, half-breed Indian guide, whom Stillman accuses of being the father of young Guy Stillman.

The rest of what became known of the letter today is the frantic effusion of a woman heartbroken, lonely and despondent. It grants that the chasm year ago between herself and her husband and it blames her husband for it. In substance, it is the cry of despair.

"I called you, but you turned a deaf ear to my plea. Here is the text of that portion made public today:

"I have always been on the square with you. Our differences started when your father made it plain that he did not want you to marry me. You know that we have grown apart from each other.

"That was not my fault. I wanted you to come to me but you would not do so. You left me up in the country all alone and it was so cold.

"I was so lonely and wanted you, but you would not come. I am heartbroken.

"Fred has come into my life. It might have been different had you but shown me the attention I was entitled to and come home when I appealed to you."

There, abruptly, ends the published part. Whether the rest, said to be infinitely more sensational, will ever be published was still doubtful today.

It was written about seven months before the birth of little Guy.

CHILDREN CALLED.
Counsel for Mrs. Stillman began today to rearrange their entire plans in the counter-suit against the action brought by Stillman.

In the reshuffling of the legal cards, two of the Stillman children, James Jr., 17, and Anne, 15, loomed as "aces." Both, it was announced, will testify in behalf of their mother. Moreover, at least forty men and women prominent in society circles of New York, Newport, Paris and London are expected to render testimony for her. The original desire of Mrs. Stillman and her counsel was to have the ordeal of testifying in a divorce scandal, but they declared themselves ready today to drop all bars and introduce every scrap of evidence at their disposal to convert the ex-banker's charges.

The fete given by the Junior Auxiliary branches of the Baby Hospital on Saturday, April 30, in the garden on Mrs. E. F. Fume, Piedmont, was successful beyond all expectation and the board of managers, the committee in charge and the members of the branches are rejoicing over the results.

While all concerned worked with zeal unqualified for this end, that the Orthopedic hospital, so much needed, should be an assured fact, special mention must be made of the efforts of certain branches: Miss Horton's school carried off the palm in having turned in the largest amount from its concession, closely followed by Mrs. Rensselaer's school and Miss Head's. The dance concession was especially successful, and many thanks are due Mrs. R. M. Sims and the young girls of the Rose

Express Company Sued for $25,000

BRITAIN GIVES ASSURANCES OF SUPPORT ON YAP

America's Share in Disposition of Mandated Territories Is Recognized.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Great Britain has given informal assurances to the United States that she will support the American contention with regard to the island of Yap and other mandated territories in which this government has set up claims of equality with other victors in the war with Germany, according to information obtained in diplomatic circles today.

While the State Department officially is awaiting a British reply to Secretary Hughes' recent note, it is understood that the same informal conferences which resulted in the decision to renew American representations on the allied council resulted also in an understanding with Great Britain that the Americans' claims in Yap will have the support of our allies.

ASSURANCES GIVEN.
During the last two weeks Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, has held a number of informal conversations with the State Department on the subject matter of these conversations and the conclusions reached have not been disclosed, but it is believed that such assurances were given to Secretary Hughes that he felt no hesitancy in advocating the resumption of American participation in the European council. Prior to those conferences with the British ambassador, the State Department permitted the impression to go forth that American representatives could hardly sit upon the supreme council until the allies had indicated their attitude on the subject of Yap.

HOME U. S. DEMANDS.
When the Yap mandate is again taken up by the supreme council, Colonel George Harvey, the personal representative of the American States, will be on hand to press home the points raised in Secretary Hughes' note—the principal one of which is that the United States contributed equally to the winning of the war which made mandates possible and as an equal contributor should be an equal sharer in the benefits to be derived from that victory.

TOKYO, May 8.—Secretary Hughes' note indicating that the United States will drive all her rights on the disposition of German possessions overseas growing out of the war brought forth much newspaper discussion, all of which recognized equally the equality of the points raised. The general opinion expressed was that it virtually meant a reopening of the peace conference.

MIDNIGHT SHOW TO AID SALVATION ARMY FUND
Ten acts of vaudeville and motion pictures interspersed with screen flashes telling the story of the fund-raising election tomorrow will be staged at a "midnight matinee" for the benefit of the Salvation Army drive for $30,000 for its maternity home tomorrow night at the T. and D. theater.

Announcement of the "matinee" was made today by leaders of the Salvation Army drive. All of the talent used will be donated by theatrical men and the use of the theater is being given to the army by the T. and D. management. All of the money will go direct to the drive.

Campaign leaders announced today that $444 was raised in the voluntary and unsolicited "show of dollars" which greeted the appearance of the Salvation Army band at the Ad Masque in the Auditorium Saturday night.

Court Rules Against Druggist of Mexicali
SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today affirmed the lower decision in favor of the California state board of pharmacy, which was sued by E. E. Young, Mexicali druggist, for $25,000, the amount of drugs seized.

The board seized the narcotics at Calexico on the ground that the law was being violated. Young claimed that they were in intra-state and interstate traffic and that the officials of California had no right to interfere with their passage into Mexico. The court decided against him.

What's Happening in the Motor World

by Jim Houlihan

Everything is ready for the State Championship tire-changing contest to be held tonight at the Orpheum in conjunction with the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association theater party.

Seven men have entered the contest and will fight it out for honors and the time is certain to be faster than in any of the six preceding contests.

The seven men, who have been in training for the event are Gamble, Krukel, Eldridge, Gregory, Payton, Chase and Shure. These men have been practicing this difficult feat and all have made better than five minutes and some of them under four.

This contest includes, removing the tire from the rim, after deflating it, taking the tube out, and then replacing the tube, the tire on the rim and pumping to eighty pounds pressure with a hand pump. The men must have practiced for a long time to find out how many strokes of the pump are necessary to inflate the tire to eighty pounds so that they will not lose time by removing the hose and testing the tire. Unless the tire has eighty pounds pressure the men are disqualified so you can be sure that this will have more rather than less.

Practically all the seats have been sold for the theater party, and only a few of them are left now. There will be practically a hundred percent attendance by members of the automobile trade association and their friends.

The men who will judge the contestants and watch their efforts under supervision of the writer are P. Walter Grinnier, E. J. Rosenthal, Chas. Avis, Leonard Sleep, J. A. M. Johnson, Don Hunsinger and Dave Jones. Each contestant will have his time kept by a judge.

There is a master air gauge in the hands of Grinnier, which has been tested, and which can be compared with the gauges used by the contestants any time before the fight tonight.

The boys at the Orpheum have all been sold to automobile men and are decorated in unique fashion. There is much rivalry between the various box holders, and a wonderful display will be made.

All is set for the party tonight. There are some tickets for 50c and 75c, but you had better get there early if you want them.

CHEVROLET PRICE CUT
THE REDUCTION IN PRICE.

The price reduction announced yesterday by the Chevrolet Motor company has created a furor among motorists and sales have increased wonderfully. A customer who received from J. H. Collier, retail branch manager here this morning, "We have had a constant stream of people in line in the last two hours and all day yesterday," says Collier.

The reduction in price makes the new Chevrolet the lowest priced complete equipped automobile in the world.

There is a huge demand for motor cars now and this price cut has stimulated that demand to a wonderful degree.

Wilson Is to Be Heard From in World Affairs

By FRANK A. STETSON, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Former President Woodrow Wilson will soon break the silence which he has maintained since his departure from the White House on March 4 and will enter into the discussion of international affairs.

This is the belief of persons closely connected with the former administration, expressed today, and it is based upon a close scrutiny of Wilson's activities since he became a private citizen.

It is known that Wilson is doing some writing, "scribbling," as he calls it, the nature of which he has not disclosed to even his most intimate friends. It is also known that he is keeping in the closest possible touch with the international situation.

A frequent visitor to the Wilson residence is Norman H. Davis, former under secretary of state, and a member of the reparations commission at the Paris peace conference. Bernard M. Baruch of New York, who headed the American representatives on the reparations commission and who was responsible in large measure for the economic clauses of the Versailles treaty, has come to Washington and consulted with Wilson on more than one occasion. Another frequent visitor has been Senator Carter Glass of Virginia.

Joseph P. Tumulty, former secretary to the president, is an almost daily visitor.

Tumulty has kept what he has termed a "flow journal" of editorial comment since he entered upon his secretarial duties, more than eight years ago.

Judging from the men whom the former president has been conferring with, it is believed Wilson is preparing what may be termed a "constructive criticism" of the reparations situation. How this will be offered to the world, Wilson has not disclosed.

The former president is slowly improving in health. The improvement is not recorded so much in his appearance as in his voice. People who have talked with him recently say his voice has returned to its old time vigor and resonance and that he would be perfectly capable of delivering a public address at this time.

There is an almost daily appeal for Wilson to make speeches and lectures but to all he has turned a deaf ear.

What America Did and Failed to Do at Paris

by ROBERT LANSING
FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE

(Copyright, 1921, by Houghton Mifflin Co., as "The Peace Negotiations; a Personal Narrative." Published by special arrangement with Houghton Mifflin Co.)

Robert Lansing continues today his recital of which swept Italy when the President came out the notable "Fiume incident" at the Peace Conference and tells of the vital mistakes the Italians made in reading President Wilson's character and his attempts to coerce him by threats. Mr. Lansing, "one of the most unpleasant incidents that took place further to the 'tempest of popular fury' place at Paris."

CHAPTER XXIV.

How Secret Diplomacy Failed.

During the first three weeks of April the efforts to shake the determination of the President to support the Jugo-Slav claims to Fiume and the adjacent territory were redoubled, but without avail. Every form of compromise as to boundary and port privileges, which did not deprive Italy of the sovereignty, was proposed, but found to be unacceptable. The Italians held by the pressure of the aroused national spirit and the President, firm in the conviction that the Italian claim to the port was unjust, remained obdurate. Attempts were made by both sides to reach some common ground for an agreement, but none was found. As the time approached to submit the treaty to the German plenipotentiaries, who were expected to arrive at Paris on April 28, the Italian delegates let it be known that they would absent themselves from the meeting at which the document was to be presented unless a satisfactory understanding in regard to Fiume was obtained before the meeting.

I doubt whether this threat was with the approval and upon the advice of the American friends of the Italians who had been industrious in attempting to persuade the President to accept the compromise. An American familiar with Mr. Wilson's disposition would have realized that to try to coerce him in that manner would be folly, as in all probability it would have just the contrary effect to the one desired.

ITALIAN AMBASSADOR INDIGNANT AT WILSON.

The Italian delegates did not apparently read the President's statement with a clear mind. They made a mistake, their threat of withdrawal from the conference resulted far differently from their expectation and hope. When Mr. Wilson learned of the Italian threat he met it with a public announcement of his position in regard to the controversy, which was intended as an appeal to the people of Italy to abandon the claim to Fiume and to reject their government's policy of insisting on an unjust settlement. This declaration was given to the press late in the afternoon of April 28, and a French newspaper containing it was handed, it was said, to Signor Orlando at the President's residence where the Council of Four were assembled. He immediately withdrew, issued a counter-statement, and the following day left Paris for Rome more on account of his indignation at the course taken by the most detested. As no words of praise and admiration were too extravagant to be spoken of him when he visited Rome in January, so no words of insult or execration were too gross to characterize him after his public announcement regarding the Adriatic question. There was never a more complete reversal of public sentiment toward an individual.

The reason for reciting the facts of the Fiume dispute, which was one of the most unpleasant incidents that took place at Paris during the negotiations, is to bring out clearly the consequences of secret diplomacy. A discussion of the reasons, or of the probable reasons, for the return of the Italian statesmen to Paris before the treaty was handed to the Germans would add nothing to the subject under consideration, while the same may be said of the subsequent occupation of Fiume by Italian nationalists under the leadership of D'Annunzio, without authority of their government, but with the enthusiastic approval of the Italian people.

DIPLOMAT BITTER IN CRITICISM OF AFFAIR.

Five days after the Italian premier and his minister of foreign affairs had departed from Paris, a known Italian diplomat, who was an intimate friend of both Signor Orlando and Baron Sonnino and who had been very active in the secret negotiations regarding the Italian boundaries which had been taking place at Paris since the middle of December. This diplomat was extremely bitter about the whole affair and took no pains to hide his views as to the causes of the critical situation which existed. In the memorandum of our conversation, which I wrote immediately after he left my office, appears the following:

"He exclaimed: 'One tells you one thing and that is not true; then another tells you another thing and that is not true. What is one to believe? What can one do? It is hopeless. So many secret meetings with different persons are simply awful!—He threw up his hands now we have the result. It is terrible!'

"I laughed and said, 'I conclude that you do not like secret diplomacy.' " "I do not," he fervently exclaimed. "All our trouble comes from these secret meetings of four men (referring to the Big Four), who keep no records and who tell different stories of what takes place. Secrecy is to blame. We have been unable to rely on any one. To have to run around and see this man and that man is not the way to do. Most all sympathize with you when alone and then they desert you when they get with others. This is the cause of much bitterness and distrust. Secret diplomacy is a utter failure. It is too hard to endure. Some men know only how to whisper. They are not to be trusted. I do not like it."

ITALIANS DISGUSTED WITH SECRET METHODS.

"Well," I said, "you cannot charge me with that way of doing business."

"I cannot," he replied; "you tell me the truth, I may not like it, but at least you do not hold out false hopes."

The foregoing conversation no doubt expressed the real sentiments of the members of the Italian delegation at that time. Disgust with confidential personal interviews and with relying upon personal influence rather than upon the merits of their cause was the natural reaction following the failure to win by the means the President's approval of Italy's demands.

The Italian policy in relation to Fiume was wrecked on the rock of President Wilson's firm determination that the Jugo-Slavs should have a seaport on the Adriatic sufficient for their needs and that Italy should not control the approaches to that port. With the week of the Fiume policy went in time the Orlando government which had failed to make good the promises which they had given to their people. Too late they realized that secret diplomacy had failed, and that they had made a mistake in relying upon it.

It is no wonder that the two leaders of the Italian delegation on returning to Paris and resuming their duties in the conference refrained from attempting to arrange clandestinely the settlement of the Adriatic question. The "go-between" on whom they had previously relied, were no longer employed. Secret diplomacy was anathema. They had paid a heavy price for the lesson, which they had learned.

When one reviews the negotiations at Paris from December, 1918, to June, 1919, the secretiveness which characterized them is very evident. Everybody seemed to talk in whispers and never to say anything worth while except in confidence. The open sessions of the conference were arranged beforehand. They were formal and perfunctory. The agencies and bargaining were made behind closed doors. This secrecy began with the exchange of views concerning the League of Nations, following which came the exchange of views on the Ten, whose meetings were intended to be secret. Then came the secret sessions of the Commission on the League and the numerous informal interviews of the President with one or more of the members of the Allied powers, the facts concerning which were not divulged to the American Commissioners.

Later on Mr. Wilson's return from the United States, dissatisfaction with and complaint of the publicity given to some of the proceedings of the Council of the League of Nations, the Council of Four with the result that the secrecy of the negotiations was practically unbroken. It is this brief summary of the increasing secretiveness of the proceedings of the controlling bodies of the Peace conference are added the intrigues and personal bargains which were constantly going on, the "log-rolling" to use a term familiar to American politics—which was practiced, the record is one which invites no praise and will find many who condemn.

In view of the frequent and emphatic declarations in favor of "open diplomacy" and the popular interpretation placed upon the phrase, "Open doors," it is not surprising that the effect of the secret methods employed by the leading negotiators at Paris was to destroy public confidence in the sincerity of these statesmen and to bring them to the charge of pursuing a policy which they had themselves condemned and repudiated. Naturally President Wilson, who had been especially earnest in his denunciation of secret negotiations, suffered more than his foreign colleagues, whose real support of "open diplomacy" had always been doubted, though all of them, by a measure of public estimation as a consequence of the way in which the negotiations were conducted.

The criticism and condemnation, expressed with varying degrees of intensity, resulted from the disappointed hopes of the peoples of the world, who had looked forward confidently to the Peace Conference at Paris as the great and final change to a new diplomacy which would cast aside the cloak of mystery that had been in the past the recognized every of diplomatic negotiations. The record of the Paris proceedings in this particular is a sorry one. It is the record of the abandonment of principle, of the failure to follow precepts unconditionally proclaimed of the repudiation by act, if not by word, of a new and better type of international intercourse.

WILSON FAILED TO SHOW DISPLEASURE AT SECRECY.

It is not my purpose or desire to fix the blame for this perpetuation of old and discredited practices on any one individual. To do so would be unjust, since more than one precept of the new diplomacy should be the responsibility for its continuance. But, as the secrecy became more and more impenetrable and as the President gave silent acquiescence or at least showed displeasure with the practice, I realized that in this matter, as in others, our judgments were at variance and our views irreconcilable. As the opposition to the method of conducting the proceedings was evident, I cannot but assume that this decided difference was one that materially affected the relations between Mr. Wilson and me and that he looked upon me as an unfavorable critic of his course in permitting to go unprotected the secrecy which characterized the negotiations.

The attention of the delegates to the Peace Conference who represented the smaller nations was early directed to their being denied knowledge of the terms of the treaty which were being formulated by the principal members of the delegations of the Five Great Powers. There is no doubt that at the first their mental attitude was one of confidence that the policy of secrecy would not be continued beyond the informal meetings preliminary to the organization and procedure of the conference; but, as the days lengthened into weeks and the weeks into months, and as the information concerning the actual negotiations, which reached them, became more and more meager, they could no longer close their eyes to the fact that their national rights and aspirations were to be recognized by the leaders of the Great Powers without the consent and even without the full knowledge of the delegates of the nations vitally interested.

PEACE DICTATED TO FELLOW BELLEAGUES.

Except in the case of a few of these delegates, who had been able to establish intimate personal relations with some of the "Big Four," the secretiveness of the discussions and decisions regarding the treaty settlement aroused animosity and indignation. It was evident that it was to be a "dictated peace" and not a "negotiated peace," a peace dictated by the Great Powers not only to the enemy, but also to their fellow belligerents. Some of the delegates spoke openly in criticism of the tactics methods that were being employed; but the majority held their peace.

It can hardly be doubted, however, that the body of delegates were practically unanimous in disapproving the secrecy of the proceedings, and this disapproval was found even among the delegations of the Great Powers. It was accepted by the lesser nations because it seemed impolitic and useless to oppose the united will of the controlling powers. It was natural that the delegates of the less influential states should feel that their countries would suffer in the terms of peace if they openly denounced the treatment accorded them as violative of the dignity of representatives of independent sovereignties. In any event no formal protest was entered against the policy of secrecy, and knowledge to which they were entitled, a deprivation which placed them and their countries in a subordinate, and to an extent, a humiliating position.

Friends, no matter how reliable, are usually too busy to undertake the duties of executor of a Will. Relatives may shrink from the responsibility involved in the management of an estate.

Yet every Will must be administered. By whom, then? Preferably by an institution which makes the administration of estates its business.

The Bank of Italy's reputation for reliability is at stake every time it undertakes an executorship. Its management of all estates, therefore, must be businesslike, and at the same time, satisfactory to the persons concerned.

WILLIAMS WAS IN BADWAY HE STATES

"Tanlao is a sure enough good thing, and the only reason I say it is the way the medicine restored my health and built me up," was the statement made by George S. Williams, 1331 Vermont St., San Francisco. Mr. Williams is a valued employee of the Eagle Tannery, and is very popular among amateur athletes in his community.

"I got in a very bad way two years ago as a result of a spell of sickness. For quite a while I wasn't able to do a thing. I couldn't eat enough to speak of and was so weak I couldn't even take a walk down the street. I often had to get up at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, for I was so nervous I just could not stay in bed. I was just about all in, and so pale and thin I didn't look like myself at all.

"One day I came across a Tanlao testimonial which impressed me, so I decided to give the medicine a trial. My second bottle got me started up right, and by the time I had finished my fourth bottle I felt like getting out in a running broad jump contest. I gained fifteen pounds in weight, and went back to work feeling as strong and well as ever. Although it's been over a year now since I've taken any Tanlao, I still feel fine, and will gladly tell personally what I think of this great medicine."

TWO SISTERS GET HELP

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it did for Them

Hagerstown, Md.—"I was weak, overworked, and my periods stopped. My body was swollen and I often had pain so I had to take medicine. I was treated by a physician, but he did not seem to help me at all. My sister had taken your medicine with great results. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am able to work and feel like working. I have been recommending your medicine to my friends, and you are welcome to use my testimonial. When a woman suffers from such symptoms as irregular periods, headache, backache, bearing-down pains, inflammation, nervousness and the blues, it is well for her to profit by Mrs. Carbaugh's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

—RHOEA E. CARBAUGH, R. E. L. Hagerstown, Md.

Women will tax their powers of endurance to the limit before giving up, and it is then some womanly ailments develop and they have to give up entirely. When a woman suffers from such symptoms as irregular periods, headache, backache, bearing-down pains, inflammation, nervousness and the blues, it is well for her to profit by Mrs. Carbaugh's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Theater

FULTON

It is worth while to go to the Fulton this week and see the production of "A Little Journey," with Nana Bryant and Paul Harvey handling the leading roles on the new entertainment bill at the Oakland Orpheum this week.

A Pullman car so real looking that you think you are on the train furnishes the scene for two and a half hours of fun.

Nana Bryant as Julie Rutherford is splendid. It is very difficult to play two acts of a play without having a bit and in this Pullman car, of course, remain more or less in your seat. This does not hamper Miss Bryant a bit, she is delightful.

Paul Harvey plays Jim West in fine style. Emilie May is back and her performance of Mrs. Bay is delightful. Al Watson made Leo Stein a hit. Cliff Thompson, George R. Taylor, Monnie Sisson and all of the Fulton players lent a hand and in so doing put over a corking comedy in perfect style.

MACARTHUR

"Watch My Smoke," a snappy comedy with the psychology of success founded on self-confidence as its basic theme, was presented at the MacArthur theater yesterday afternoon for the first time in Oakland, marking the farewell week of Jane Urban and Walter P. Richardson and their associate players.

"Watch My Smoke" will continue for the balance of this week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, and will be followed by a change in policy in the theater when vaudeville and pictures will be offered at popular prices commencing Sunday afternoon next at noon and showing at continuous performance.

BROADWAY

James Oliver Curwood's "Kazan" is at the Broadway. The production will be seen for the last time today. The "punch" in "Kazan" comes when the heroine finds her protector has gone blind and the enemy about to close in on them. Harold Lloyd furnishes the comedy on the same program.

"Fantomas" in "The Haunted Castle" will be added to today's bill. Tomorrow, Hobart Bosworth appears in "1000 1," while Buster Keaton will be seen in "The Eagle Head."

Thursday's big double program will be divided by "Dinty" and "A Small Town Idol."

CHIMES

"The Kentuckians," a picturization of the novel by John Fox Jr., with Monte Blue in the stellar role, is the main attraction at the Chimes theater, commencing today.

A romance of foud in the Blue Ridge hills and of love in the Blue Grass capital, with Monte Blue as Boone Stallard, chief of the clan, and fighting his own people. Down in the capitol halls at Frankfort he had fought for their good name. Now in the mountains their old, grim feud was flaming—and he had to make a good Diana Allen. Wilfred Lytell are in the supporting cast.

San Francisco News

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Police today are searching for a young woman who yesterday abandoned a month-old baby in the Hotel Whitcomb after she had registered as "Mrs. and Mrs. W. Garthie" Oakland. The infant was taken to the Juvenile Detention Home by Detective George Huppely, who is attempting to find the parents.

Because he was ill and out of funds, Armand Tessier, an engraver, living at the Vendome Hotel, 224 Columbus avenue, ended his life yesterday by plunging all of the crevices in his room and turning on two gas jets to full capacity. He was a native of France, 57 years of age. He left all of his personal effects to Ernest Benson, proprietor of the hotel.

W. H. Castley, alleged organizer of the One Big Union in the North Pacific States, was arrested yesterday by plugging all of the crevices in his room and turning on two gas jets to full capacity. He was a native of France, 57 years of age. He left all of his personal effects to Ernest Benson, proprietor of the hotel.

Mme. Jan Ignace Paderewski, wife of the Polish statesman and pianist, speaking in the Polish language, addressed the members of the San Francisco Polish colony in the Knights of Columbus hall yesterday afternoon. Mme. Paderewski described the conditions in Poland especially concerning the need of financial assistance.

Sampling contraband liquor late Saturday night proved a costly experience for Richard Monohan, Albany Hotel, 137 Third street, who reported to the police that while under the influence of concocted concoction at supposed "soft drink" establishments he had been robbed of $2500 and a gold watch. When Monohan recovered sufficiently to discover his loss, he told the police he was standing at the corner of Third and Howard streets.

Edward Baxter, Bay Point shipyard worker, met the same two men several hours later and was given the same treatment. Neither Monohan nor Baxter could remember the names of the men or give a description.

To raise a fund for the relief of their needy buddies and their families, San Francisco's disabled war veterans started a drive today in the downtown district and in all sections. The drive will end with a big carnival ball at the Civic Auditorium on the night of May 28, Chapter No. 2 of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War are conducting the drive. Prominent artists and entertainers have promised to assist the veterans in the campaign for funds.

ORPHEUM

Blossom Seeley, the impersonation of "syncopeation," Daisy Nellis, the distinguished pianist, and Ned Norworth, "nuttier of nuts," are the three featured acts on the new entertainment bill at the Oakland Orpheum this week.

When it comes to "jazz" and syncopeation Blossom Seeley is the world's best bet. Benny Fields handles the piano. Sam Miller and Harry Stover, appearing in Miss Seeley's new entertainment, were well chosen for their work.

Youthful enthusiasm and charming personality mark the artistic work of Miss Daisy Nellis.

Norwood outdoes his billing with some of the most laughable nonsense in years—keeping the house in a continuous uproar of laughter.

Ed and Birdie Conrad in a pleasing musical offering and Grant Gardner, a comedian, are features of the new bill. Bronson and Edwards, "two strong men," offer a comedy-acrobatic act, and Sansone and Dellah provide a really original act. Two films are also offered this week.

PANTAGES

The audience at the Pantages yesterday liked the trousers of one of the Demuchels brothers better than anything on the bill. The two in their act consisted of a harp, violin and the trousers, almost stopped the show.

Rhoda Royal's elephants were accomplished pachyderms, walking on their knees, dancing and circling, swinging their trainer in mid air.

There were two numbers on the bill, one a delightful bit, including Miss Helen Rinehart and Miss Br- zialie Buff in hoop skirts, pointed bodices and shoulders. "Through the Keyhole," a playlet featuring Don Bruce and Margot Duffet, was beautifully mounted. If any one is strong for Scotch, their thirst will be slaked by the songs of Sammy Duncan.

AMERICAN

"The Plaything of Broadway," Justine Johnston's success, is the new headliner at the American. On the same bill are seen David Butler and Leatrice Joy in "Smiling All the Way."

"The Plaything of Broadway" tells of a model who sets out to conquer Broadway, and how she finds romance, not in the devotees of the white lights, but in another and very subtle factor, forms the interesting story.

"Smiling All the Way" is a comedy with a pretty heart interest thread running through it. Topics of the Day round out the bill and John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra offer an interesting musical bill. Edgar Bayliss and Clement Barker alternate at the organ.

IDORA

Miller Ice Cream Day at Idora park, for which 50,000 admission tickets are to be given away during the week, will be celebrated Saturday with free tickets to concessions and free rides for the children in addition to all the ice cream they can eat. All stores that sell Miller ice cream will give away the admission tickets. Coupons that will entitle the holder to three free rides on concessions.

NEPTUNE

Kit Karson, the slack wire performer, starred in his shooting novelty on a high wire at Neptune Beach yesterday afternoon. Chet Clarke flew over the crowds in his new Sopwith Camel Scout plane, while the Schultz band gave a pleasing concert on the beach. In the big outdoor swimming tank, the Neptune mermaids competed, and Bobby Beck, the well known high diver, performed from the sixty-foot diving platform.

Governor Stephens Denies Endorsement of Hempstead and Anderson

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—I have just been shown for the first time a circular said to be in circulation in Oakland at this time. On the second page of said circular there is a letter addressed "To All Voters of Oakland" which has my name as the first signature thereto. The placing of my name there is wholly without authority from me. I have not endorsed anyone's candidacy in Oakland and I have given permission to no one at any time to use my name either for or against anyone now a candidate. In January last I wrote Senator A. P. Anderson of Oakland commending him for his general attitude in the State Senate towards all good legislation. I have written no other letter to anyone now a candidate in Tuesday's election. Never have I as Governor taken any part in a local election.

W. D. STEPHENS.

Congressman Elston Also Denies Endorsement

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—J. CAL EWING, Oakland. Have not authorized A. P. Anderson to use my name nor endorsed his candidacy against Carter.

J. A. ELSTON.

The above is in answer to publicity given by Hempstead and Anderson in an endorsement by eighty names leading off with Governor Stephens and Congressman Elston. Among the eighty names are included twenty-seven TAX EATERS—not necessarily taxpayers—eight non-residents and a number of disgruntled, defeated candidates at the late primary election.

The Good Government League Asks You to Vote for COLBOURN and CARTER

Political Advertisement Political Advertisement Political Advertisement Political Advertisement

FRANK COLBOURN

ALBERT E. CARTER

THE ISSUE IS CLEAR CUT COMPARE THE CANDIDATES

- EVERY VOTER who casts his ballot on May 10th will do one of two things
- He will vote for COLBOURN and CARTER, two competent men, OR
- He will vote to turn over to the PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS of Alameda County two of the most responsible offices in the city government.
- THE PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS are making a desperate effort to come back. An aroused public opinion some time ago sent them scurrying for cover.
- Now the PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS believe that the public has lapsed into indifference and they are trying to slip back into power.
- THE GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE, sponsoring the candidacy of COLBOURN and CARTER, is composed of men and women who have the best interests of their city at heart—who believe that city officials entrusted with responsibility of city government should have the training and qualifications to enable them to measure up to the responsibility of their offices.
- THE GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE now asks that every citizen who has the interest of the city at heart to think over the situation and go to the polls and vote on May 10th.
- AND NOT ONLY VOTE BUT GET HIS OR HER FRIENDS TO VOTE.
- IN THIS you will notice one of the radical differences between the men and women who have the interests of their city at heart and the PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS.
- THE PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS HAVE ONE PRAYER—a light vote. They are afraid of a big vote, always have been and always will be.
- FRANK COLBOURN has learned the city's needs in fourteen years' experience as Secretary of the Civil Service Board.
- ALBERT E. CARTER is an attorney of highest standing, who made a great record in the government service during the war in war camp community work. He is a past president of the Rotary Club.
- Compare the qualifications of Colbourn and Carter with the qualifications of the men whom the PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS are so desperately trying to elect.

You Must Not Be Misled by Eleventh Hour Propaganda

- Malicious statements are again being circulated by the professional politicians opposed to Colbourn and Carter that they, if elected, will reappoint Walter J. Petersen as Chief of Police. Both Colbourn and Carter, as well as Mayor John L. Davie and Commissioner William J. Baccus, have pledged themselves that they will not vote for Walter J. Petersen for Chief of Police while they hold office and THEY STAND BY THIS PLEDGE.
- Furthermore, our opponents are making the statement that a vicious religious document emanated from us. This is a MALICIOUS LIE. We offer $500 reward for proof of same.

LOUIE GUISTO WILL JOIN OAKLAND CLUB AT SEATTLE THIS WEEK

MITZE'S MEN FATTEN BATTING AVERAGES AND WIN TWO GAMES IN ONE DAY FROM BEAVERS

CAL EWING SAYS THAT OAKLAND CLUB WILL WIN 1921 P. C. L. FLAG

President of Local Club Has Lot to Say When He Learns That Guisto Is to Return Home

By EDDIE MURPHY
J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland baseball club, has made many promises to the fans of Oakland in past seasons that his team would be up in the race, but never in the last few did we hear him predict that his team would win the Pacific Coast League pennant such as he did when we halted him in a mad dash down Broadway this morning. Cal was headed for the telegraph office, where he wanted to shoot a telegram to Del Howard and Honus Mitze to let them know that Louis Guisto left Cleveland last night and will join the Oaks at Seattle this week. Herbie McFarlin, secretary of the Oaks, found the messenger boy waiting at the door of his office this morning, and it was he who was first to learn the glad news. The double victory which the Oaks scored over the Beavers yesterday and the news about Guisto being turned back to the Oaks excited Ewing so that he put his hand to his vest pocket and said: "Have a cigar," and instead he handed out a pencil.

Cal talked as long on the Broadway corner about what he thinks of his ball club as it was feared a copper would come along and tell us to move on, so it was necessary to remind him that he intended sending a wire to Howard and Mitze to let them know that Guisto is to return home.

Oaks Lucky to Get Guisto Back Again.

New for a few lines about Louis Guisto. The big Italian boy is coming here on an option and is not the property of the Oaks. He will be allowed to complete the present season with the local club and if Tris Speaker wants him for the next season, he will have the right to call him and the Oaks cannot say a word against it. But that is not worrying Ewing. He said that Guisto is a real find for it is the 1921 Pacific Coast League pennant they are after. Cal Ewing and company had to pay well to induce the Cleveland owners to let Louis complete the season with the Oaks. Ewing thinks a great deal of Louis and does a number of other clubs in the league. No Shift Expected Around Keystone Sack.

Members of the "Guinness" Club before to have a lot of fun in the next few days. The club has been moved to the Oakland infield to make room for Guisto. Ewing Says Oaks Must Cop Flag This Year.

Ewing has spent many years and lots of kale in baseball trying to turn out pennant winners. He has never felt as sure of winning a pennant and was never so determined to do so as he is this year. Cal said:

Most Critics Pick Dempsey To Land 'Kayo'

They Also Say That Tom Gibbons Is Man to Meet the Winner.

(Copyright, 1921, International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 9.—A landslide for Dempsey.

Consensus of opinion among leading sports writers of the country regarding the outcome of the Dempsey-Carpenter battle at Jersey City, July 2, indicates today.

International News Service is taking a "straw vote" among the critics of the fight. Six of the best posted writers from coast to coast have already responded.

In answer to the query: "Who will win?" Dempsey is selected by five writers, Carpenter by one and one writer for the contest will result in a draw.

Opinion varies regarding the number of rounds the battle will go. Six writers believe that Dempsey will win within six rounds. The other two writers believe it will go to the limit.

Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, who recently jumped into the spotlight as a contender, also is mentioned as a possible challenger.

Approximately two-thirds of the writers are opposed to judges acting as referees in boxing.

Look them over, fans—they are a pair of regular athletes who are hopeful of being on the pennant winning team of the Pacific Coast League this season. Above is PITCHER GEO. (LEFTY) WINN, who has won three games without a defeat for the Oaks, and below is LOUIE GUISTO, who left Cleveland last night and will join the Oaks at Seattle this week. We all know what Louie can do in fielding and hitting line.

Gossip for Baseball Fans

Now that Louis Guisto has been secured by the Oaks, that club is just up to the pitcher limit, and if a new pitcher is secured, it will mean that someone new on the roster will have to walk out the gate.

Sam Lewis was given wonderful support by the Oaks yesterday. Maury Rath had lots of time to pick it up, and then it was not his fault, as a ball slipped from his hand as he threw it.

Bert Ellison also had a great day with the stick. He hit the homer, two doubles and two singles in nine trips to the plate.

Empires Jake Groer and Ed Finney certainly not agree nicely in the first game of the evening series. They had many close decisions to make and some of their results in disputes with the players, but that was to be expected.

Arlett and Krause Pitched Well Against the Beavers; Games Drawn at Oak-S.F. Lots

The Oakland baseball club is today perched on the fourth rung of the Pacific Coast League ladder or one higher than it was a week ago after completing its series with the Vernon Tigers. The San Francisco Seals have taken the place of the Sacramento Coyotes on the top rung, and the boys from the capital city are found in second place which was held by the Seals.

The Seals play one more game with the Coyotes at Recreation Park this afternoon, but they cannot lose their position at the top. The Angels will complete their series with the Bees by playing two games today and they have a good chance to climb into second place ahead of the Coyotes.

The Angels hold the same rung they did last week, but they kept up with the pace of the Seals by grabbing four wins in five games with the Bees, the same as the Seals did with the Coyotes. The Vernon and Seattle teams battled even in their series and are in about the same places they were as last Monday.

The work of the Oakland club pitching staff at Portland last week has no doubt brought a lot of joy to the fans of the Oaks. Salinas Club Leading the Mission Race

SAN JOSE, May 9.—The Mission League race today finds Salinas retaining a 1,000 per cent average and Gilroy training close behind as a result of wins by those two teams over the San Jose aggregations, while Watsonville clinched out of the cellar and showed San Jose and Hollister down with a win over Hollister.

At Sodalita Park here, the Salinas team won a gruesome contest from the locals, 15 to 10, the game being replete with hitting and errors. The San Jose outfit piled up a total of 10 errors, Salinas scoring 15 runs on 10 hits. San Jose pitched June 2, Salinas' highly touted hurler, for 16 hits and 10 runs, enough to win any ordinary ball game, but refused to accept the game as a gift. Hollis was knocked out of the box in an inning and a half, but he was not responsible for any of the four runs scored while he was in the box. He allowed but four hits in seven innings.

Watsonville and Hollister played the best game of the day's schedule, the Pirates winning by a 4 to 2 score. Kersten, former Oak, was in good form for the winners.

Gilroy seemed to have the Indian sign on Dick Arlett, Lindsay of San Jose got 3 hits. Arlett was quite good in the box, he allowed but four hits in seven innings.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 9.—Frank Kluska, former American middleweight champion, who has returned to fight from Carpenter on a foul in 1912.

Dempsey should win by a knockout in four or five rounds. The Frenchman will be too busy avoiding the champion's shifts to get himself set for a dangerous punch. Carpenter, while he has improved his defense since his last fight, is not rugged enough to absorb the body punches Dempsey is capable of delivering.

We regret to announce that sailing of Steamer Yale, scheduled for 4 p. m. Tuesday, May 10th, from San Francisco for Los Angeles, has been cancelled. AUTO CLUBS HIT AT STATE BOARD

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—To cover "its own incompetency and mismanagement," the State Highway Commission is attempting to discredit the two automobile clubs of the state, says a statement issued today by the California State Automobile Association.

The statement is in review of the controversy just ended between the commission and the automobile clubs over the adoption of the gasoline tax bill fostered by the commission and opposed by the clubs.

"We freely admit having made a vigorous fight in the state legislature to protect the motoring public against unjust and unnecessary increased taxation," the statement says, "and to force the State Highway Commission to spend maintenance funds for maintenance and not for political purposes."

The statement charges that out of a total of $5,781,733.64 in motor vehicle fees expended up to June 30, 1920, only $2,850,554.15 has gone into maintenance and repair of the highway system. It further declares that the overhead cost of operating the state motor vehicle department has increased 323 per cent from 1916 to 1920, while the collections have increased but 158 per cent.

Declaring that the commission's share of motor vehicle fees in the next four years will be more than twice what they have been in the past seven years, the statement says:

"If these funds are properly used it is obvious that not only can the proper repair and maintenance of the entire system be carried on, but also the much-needed reconstruction and widening of the 230 miles of pavement stated by the commission to be in need of such rehabilitation."

GREAT VARIETY OF QUESTIONS ASKED TRIBUNE BUREAU

Weather, Literature, Entomology
Favorite Subjects of Curious.

With the inauguration of The TRIBUNE'S Information Department today, queries on the widest imaginable variety of subjects have already begun to pour in. "Ask The Tribune" is already becoming the slogan, not only of The TRIBUNE'S immediate subscribers, but of its army of general readers as well. The TRIBUNE'S Information Bureau is open for queries by telephone from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. In addition to the many telephone calls that have come in many letters of inquiry have arrived. In all cases where replies are requested by mail, stamps must be enclosed, and the name and address of the person requesting the information must be written plainly.

WETTEST SPOT.

Prohibition seems to have had inspired this question, which came in to the Information Bureau early today:

"What is the wettest place on earth — meteorologically speaking?"

Cherrapongee, in Southern Assam, where, in 1861, the rainfall reached 965 inches.

Along similar lines was another query:

"What is the average rainfall in the world?"

The average rainfall in the world has been estimated at from 30 to 60 inches.

The weather seems to be a favorite subject with the seekers after general information. Witness this query:

"What is the mean annual temperature of the globe?"

The mean annual temperature of the globe is about 59 degrees Fahrenheit.

Another query which came in was:

"Why is New Orleans called the Crescent City?"

Because originally the city was built on a bend of the Mississippi river. The city was originally crescent shaped, and hence came the name, "The Crescent City."

Entomology seems to be a favorite subject, judging from the many queries that have come in regarding the lives and attributes of various species insects. Here is one along this line:

"What is the difference between bumble-bees and hummer-bees?"

There is no difference. The two names apply to one kind of bee, although the term "hummer-bee" is preferred from a scientific point of view, while "bumble-bee" seems to be favored by usage. The hummer-bee is less social in its instincts than the hive type of bee. It may seem a far cry from the bumble-bee to the lucky four-leaved clover, yet entomologists tell us that if there were no hummer-bees there would be very little clover in the world. Clover owes its existence principally to cross-fertilization effected by the hummer-bee passing from one bloom to another. In Australia, which is practically the only part of the globe where the hummer-bee does not exist, that insect has been introduced to make the raising of clover a possibility.

WRESTLER'S GRIP SLAYS INTRUDER IN BOUT IN DARK

Oakland Man Killed As Thief by Louis R. Ardoun, S. F. Heavyweight Champion.

A coroner's inquest was held today following the killing early yesterday morning of William E. Anderson, 32, of Oakland, who met his death in a hand-to-hand struggle with Louis R. Ardoun, amateur champion heavyweight wrestler of the Pacific Coast, who was attempting to rob the wrestler's home at 2225 Hale drive, Burlingame.

After being told by his wife that there was a burglar in the house, Ardoun sprang from his bed and locked arms with the intruder. He succeeded in getting a "full Nelson" hold on his opponent and strangled Anderson to death.

The burglar's presence in the Ardoun home was revealed shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

While Ardoun, wife of the athlete, awoke, she heard Anderson prowling around the room and told her husband. Ardoun climbed from the bed.

SILENT GRAPPLE IN DARK.
Burglar, hearing the movements, began to crawl to the door, but Ardoun made a leap and lit upon his back.

For five minutes the men silently fought, each seeking the advantage which would overcome the other. Ardoun obtained a "full Nelson" on the man and grappled him to his knees. Lower went the burglar's head until it touched the floor, and then Ardoun, with the hold still clamped on Anderson's neck, began to pound his head against the floor.

Anderson attempted to subdue Ardoun, but was again and again repulsed, but each time the ferocity of the trapped man's struggles drove her head against the floor.

Anderson's death, however, crushed the resistance out of Anderson and his struggles became less fierce.

WIFE SUMMONS POLICE.
Mrs. Ardoun then called her husband's palmar trousers, tied Anderson's feet together and ran to the telephone and called the police department.

Although the burglar was not more than 5 feet 6 inches tall he weighed close to 180 pounds. Ardoun is 6 feet tall and weighs 200 pounds. Despite the difference in their weights, Anderson put up a terrific struggle for freedom. The pair thrashed about the bedroom until they plunged against the door.

So fierce were their struggles that their heads crashed through the panels.

STRANGLER TO DEATH.
When Patrolman Edward Oliphant and Jack Theimer of the Burlingame police department arrived, the wrestling champion still held the "full Nelson" hold, but Anderson was struggling. Ardoun released the hold and the policemen turned Anderson over and found that he was dead. At the undertaking establishment where the dead man was taken, it was found that he had been strangled to death.

Ardoun was heart-broken when he learned that he had killed the man.

WRESTLER GRIEF STRICKEN.
"I will do anything in my power for my wife," he said today. "I never meant to kill him. I wouldn't have killed him for any thing in the world. I only meant to subdue him."

Ardoun was asked what he was pulling the covers over his head so that the burglar could not hear what she had to say. I pulled the covers from my head and saw the fellow crawling toward the door on his hands and knees. I jumped from bed and landed on his back. He put up a terrible battle even after I got a full Nelson on him. I was horribly shocked when the policemen turned him over and found him dead. I did not mean to kill him, although I put on all the pressure I could. My main object was to subdue him as quickly as possible."

DEAD MAN FROM OAKLAND.
Police believe that Anderson was the same burglar found late Saturday night in the home of William C. Harker, at 1251 Sherman avenue, Burlingame. He escaped by crawling from the bedroom.

Cards on the dead man gave his address at 840 Powell street, San Francisco. Persons living at the Powell street address said today that Anderson and his wife moved to Oakland Saturday.

Ardoun is well known in amateur wrestling circles. He was a member of the Olympic Club of San Francisco, where he worked out with "Strangler" Lewis and other professionals. He acted as trainer at the Fredrick Y. M. C. A. during the war.

Jazz, Pep to Feature C. C. Valley Trip

It will be a merry party that takes the "friendship trip" with the traffic extension committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce next Wednesday, for arrangements were completed today to "spec" up everyone of the 500 Oakland businessmen who are expected to make this trip around the Niles-Martinez loop.

So that there will not be a dull moment on the journey, two "majors" and nine "captains" have been appointed to see that something is kept going on all the while. The majors are Ralph Seely, chairman of the trade extension committee, and A. L. Saroni, vice-chairman. The captains, each of whom will be in charge of a car on the special train, and will have under him four lieutenants are:

Car A. Helman Turner, leader of the Technical high school band; Car B. J. C. E. S. Tanner; Car C. E. S. Tanner; Car D. E. S. Tanner; Car E. S. Tanner; Car F. E. S. Tanner; Car G. E. S. Tanner; Car H. E. S. Tanner; Car I. E. S. Tanner.

These captains, with their lieutenants, will be responsible for putting on entertaining stunts en route and for marshaling the men in the cars for parades. The committee is planning to give a prize for the best stunt.

A "flying squadron" of ten is today en route to the city to get every man possible to take the trip. The committee has placed its figure at 500 passengers and already that figure is in sight. The "flying squadron" consists of:

Ralph Seely, C. L. Smith, W. W. Reese, W. T. Vahlberg, W. H. Mayhew, J. R. Munsell, Howard Bray, George Sharp, F. O. Wert and A. E. Kinney.

8 Members of Dental Board Being Sued

Charging that the Board of Dental Examiners exceeded their powers in depriving Dr. E. E. Ramsaur, University of California, graduate, of his license to practice dentistry because Ramsaur worked with a mechanic not a graduate physician in making dentures, Attorney W. H. Hynes applied before Superior Judge J. C. Quinn today on a review of the case.

Hynes charges that Attorney Oliver Dibble representing the dental board, had a man go into the office of Dr. Ramsaur to get evidence as to the testimony of this man, the dental board deprived Ramsaur of his license. The board members sued are Harry C. Newman, M. T. Congdon, C. A. Herick, J. M. Blodgett, E. L. Dornberger, L. B. Sevier and A. E. Hackett.

Rearrested At Door of County Prison

C. F. Wilson, an inmate of the county jail for the last thirty days, was rearrested yesterday as he was leaving the building. He was arrested on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. The complaint was sworn to by J. L. Mayberry, an automobile dealer, who alleges that Wilson bought an automobile in January, but has failed to make his monthly payments. He was arrested by Lou Agnew. Wilson denies that he has violated his contract.

ALVARADO BANDIT SUSPECTS ARRIVE HERE WEDNESDAY

'Little Goog' Rossi and 'Lefty' Foley to Receive Quick Trials, Decoto Says.

Brought by Deputy Sheriffs Joe Soares and Jack Collier, "Little Goog" Rossi, alias Madden, alleged shooter of August 5, May of the Alvarado bank, and "Lefty" (William) Foley, also charged with bank robbery, will arrive in Oakland Wednesday to stand trial in the Superior court, according to a telegram just received by Sheriff Frank Barnett from Soares.

The return of Rossi and Foley marks the culmination of a nationwide search for the man who shot down the president of the Alvarado bank on October 13 and for his alleged accomplice, Foley. Five of the "Thirty Strong" gang, which committed the Alvarado holdup, are now serving time in San Quentin and Yolsom and two others are in the Alameda county jail.

BOTH EX-CONVICTS.
Rossi was turned over to the Oakland police only after the Slough City (Iowa) grand jury had failed to indict him for grand larceny.

Rossi and Foley have each spent three terms in various penitentiaries for crimes ranging from assault with a deadly weapon to highway robbery.

As the two alleged robbers have already been indicted by the Alameda county grand jury, they will have no preliminary hearing but will be taken immediately before the criminal bench and allowed to plead and to retain counsel. Should they plead guilty they will be sentenced to the Alameda county jail.

OTHERS IN PRISON.
Jack Bebe, an ex-convict, and John A. Sullivan and Larry Fitzgerald are now serving time in California prisons for the robbery, while Ralph Jones and Hotele Vernon are Harrison robberies. The latter two were members of the same gang.

According to witnesses who have positively identified the names of Rossi and Foley as the robbers, Foley started to enter the bank when he was confronted by August May, the president of the institution. May knocked Foley's gun from his hand and then hit the bandit in the jaw with such force as to bring him to his knees, according to Decoto. Rossi is alleged to have shot May at this juncture and the two of them dragged the bank president into the main room of the bank.

Union Wage Cut Slackens Building Progress in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—The lockout is on in the building trades, although, according to officials of the unions involved, not more than 200 men were forced to desist from their regular tasks when they appeared for work today. Members of the Builders' Exchange say that it will not be long before all of the men who do not accept the cut in wages will be out.

Today was fixed by the Wage Arbitration Board as effective for the seven and one-half per cent cut in all of the wages of the building trades crafts. Unfinished jobs in all parts of the city were watered with great interest as the men reported for work at 8 o'clock. In many instances nothing was said about wages and on the assumption that the wartime scale was to be paid, the men went to work. In other instances there was a lockout. E. C. MacDonald, vice-president of the Building Trades Council, declared that the vast majority of the men were still at work under the old wages and not more than 200 had been locked out.

Members of the Building Exchange had a meeting today and declared they would enforce the award. There is great building activity in the city and disastrous results would follow a complete tieup of the industry, it was said.

A. D. Thurston, secretary of the General Contractors' Association, who acted as spokesman for that organization and the Builders' Exchange, declared this afternoon that the lockout was complete. "Work has practically stopped on all of the big downtown buildings," said Thurston.

"With the exception of the plasterers, all of the crafts have been locked out. As near as I can find out there are no men working at the old wages for any of the members of our organization. Of course we know that there are men working for independent contractors. We expect that there will be more men out tomorrow."

Charles Gompertz, president of the Builders' Exchange, amplified Thurston's statements by saying that in a few days craftsmen of other unions now employed on structures in various parts of the city will be out by reason of the lockout.

Contrary statements were made by union officials. F. C. MacDonald, vice-president of the building trades council, said:

"Not more than 200 men have been locked out. All over the city contractors are paying the old wages and the men are at work. We expect more firms to agree to the old scale and we do not look for general lockouts."
